

Devereaux & Associates, P.C.

ARCHITECTS AND PLANNERS

A Roof With A View

Living in the city has its perks, but one thing that is often lacking is outdoor living space. With typically little to no yard in townhomes or condos, it's time to take advantage of your rooftop terrace and turn it into your own outdoor oasis!

Other than getting out your old lawn furniture, what should you do? Depending of course on your building's restrictions, you can establish outdoor seating areas, a freestanding bar, banquets, a firepit, and even a jacuzzi! Having several plants in pots or larger planters greatly adds a sense of tranquility-- and if you're the gardening type, gives the opportunity to grow flowers, herbs, and veggies to bring to the table.

Design File
September 2016